“ My grandfather was one of the most important people I've had in my life. He showed me how to throw a baseball, got me my first job working with him, how to grow a garden, showed me what I would look like with a beard (he did work with plays and turned some rope into a beard with spirit gum when I was about 8), how to think of others before myself, how to be a decent human being. He raised me in more ways than one. Thank you everyone that reached out he will be missed.
